Undergraduate History Association Constitution:

Organization name: The Undergraduate History Association

Mission: The Undergraduate History Association seeks to increase engagement with the discipline of history among undergraduate students through panels, social events, networking events, and discourse. Furthermore, UHA seeks to increase engagement between the history department itself and the JHU community at large. This organization is open to everyone, including those who are not declared majors/minors.

Guidelines:
1. Participate in activities promoted by the History department and hold our own events to further engagement with undergraduate students and foster awareness
2. Utilize the myriad of academic research that is conducted within the History program to bring to attention the historical and present day topics pertaining to the field
3. Inform JHU students about student opportunities and courses offered by the History program

Purpose of the organization:
1. Support undergraduates in the history program and make sure they have all the departmental resources they need to succeed, by:
   a. Pushing for undergraduate involvement in departmental governance;
   b. Advocating for undergraduate involvement in course development;
   c. Creating deeper ties between and among undergraduates within the department;
2. Further engagement between the history department and the JHU community as a whole, by:
   a. Encouraging history professors to extend research opportunities to undergraduates and making such opportunities easily accessible to students, e.g. through ForagerOne
   b. Highlighting what history professors are currently studying/publishing to increase awareness of the history department as a whole
   c. Encouraging history professors to get involved with university-wide events, e.g. the freshmen banquet or the Common Question
3. Further students’ understanding of history outside of undergraduate academics by:
   a. Highlighting the careers that people have gone on to do using a history degree
   b. Highlighting organizations in which history and historical knowledge plays a significant role

Membership
I. Requirements
   1. No special membership requirements. Students can simply indicate interest to join the club at any time.

II. Membership Eligibility
   1. Membership is limited to currently enrolled Johns Hopkins University undergraduate students. No hazing or discrimination will be used as a condition of membership in this organization.

III. Active Membership Status
   1. An active member is a member who attends our bi-weekly meetings, helps promote material produced by the board, and engages with other students.

IV. Revocation of Membership:
   1. If the board believes a member needs to be removed from the organization, or if the member would like to be removed, a legitimate reason must be determined for the termination of membership.

V. Appeal Process
   1. If the termination is instigated by the board, the reason must be communicated to the member being terminated and the member must be given 48 hours to appeal that decision whether in-person or via email to the board.
